And I made a friend like I'd never known Who made me feel like I was a special someone He cared like I had never done why oh why did didn't I just phone
And now I'll never know what was wrong
There must have been something we could have done And his smile was a mia child and Andy's drink was guinness I think
Andy's walk amused us all and he was mystifying And I didn't really know him that long compared to someone compared to A sense of loss like I had never known and what was important
I had completely wrong and if I could change this world
Then I'd turn it completely upside down And Andy's smile was a mia child and his drink was guinness I think
And his walk amused us all and he was mystifying
And his style was to live in the sun and his smile was a million miles And his drink was guinness I think and Andy was mystifying I'd never known
And Andy's smile was a mia child and his drink was
guinness I think
And his walk amused us all Andy was mystifying he was real
And his style was despair sometimes and his walk amused us all
And his song was real inside he was mystifying
