One man's bet is another man's debt
One woman's love is another woman's violence One woman's style is another's chance to be cruel a while This man's drink is that man's alcoholic today
The day won't come and I'd like to thank someone For leaving us to get things wrong I pray that day won't come
When the only thing wrong is just how we choose everyone
One man's grief is another man's relief
One woman's joy is another's little shit of a boy
One woman's guile is another's chance at an insecure smile
This man's party is that man's gang rank and file This day the day won't come and I'd like to thank someone
For leaving us to get things wrong and pray the day won't come Pray the day pray the day won't come everyone Seize the day seize the day seize Seize the day won't come seize the day seize the day
won't come
And they pray that day won't come and I'd like to thank someone
For leaving us to get things wrong and pray the day
won't come
And pray the day and pray the day won't come and everyone
