Here comes the judge you can see the Freemason in his eyes
He wears a wig maybe he won't be recognised
You can trust the judge he is old and very wise
The judge shows nothing at all that would be no good for the soul
My God he is innocent he is old and wise my God he is innocent Cleaner than clean middle class and white he is always right
And cleaner than clean detached from life will he take the bribe Cleaner than clean whiter than white miserable paradise
We have got the laws judge he knows them all Learned at the bigotry bar you can see it in his eyes
He doesn't need to lie he resents the day They took his black cap away then he's all for hanging men
Flogging them with tails my God he is innocent Cleaner than clean middle class and white he is always
Cleaner than clean and detached from life will he take
the bribe Cleaner than clean middle class and fat cause his head's like that Mother dressed him in cordoroy oh what a boy His glasses always got smashed thank God for elastoplast
He had a car called Robin Reliant fucking Robin Then he read in a magazine everyone was wearing jeans
Cleaner than clean middle class and white he is always
Cleaner than clean and detached from life will he take
the bribe
Cleaner than clean whiter than white miserable parasite Cleaner than clean whiter than white whiter than white Whiter than white
