Lead me higher
Lead me higher
and lift my eyes up
to the light where
i can see all the pain coming to an end

lead me higher
into your fire
burn away all
other desires
and let my heart beat again

Lecrae:

i feel myself rising high above my yesterdays yes it pays just to pray standing in your rays sun shining, reminding me that you rose, reminding me that I'm yours, and wrapped in righteousness robes closer that i get to you the higher that i feel its like my spirit's been lifted outside the stratosphere when death is powerless and pain will never lay a claim and all the world will proclaim your name forever reigns put desire inside of the fire inside my bones earth groans to see you return to take us home soul longs for so long i'm sewed on you on the throne, my life no longer my own lead me high

Lead me higher
Lead me higher
and lift my eyes up

lead me higher

other desires

its friday morning
im up too early
im up too high;
the sky below me

like im sitting in a plane, feeling strange
can't explain
how i get to experience these things

been to plenty cities spent pretty pennies
and ate plenty full
do a show, i come home
and feel empty? NO
its never me.
im glad to say
ive been changed like presidential campaigns used to wake up in the morning pursuing the wrong things now i wake up in the morning pursuing the Lord's name take me higher than the highest you're my hope and my desire lifting me up high despite of this gravity lead me higher.
