The loneliness of nights alone
The search for strength to carry on
My every hope has seemed to die
My eyes has no more tears to cry
Then like the sun shining up above
You surrounded me with your endless love
Coz all the things I couldn't see
Are now so clear to me

You are my everything
Nothing your love wont bring
My life is yours alone
The only love I've ever known
Your spirit pulls me through
When nothing else will do
Every night I pray
On bended knees
That you will always
Be my everything

You're the breath of life in me
The only one that sets me free
And you have made my soul complete
For all time
For all time

You are my everything
Nothing your love wont bring
My life is yours alone
The only love I've ever known
Your spirit pulls me through
When nothing else will do
Every night I pray
down On bended knees
That you will always
Be my everything
Oh my everything.
