From the day you said goodbye
I've been wondering why
How could it all go wrong
Why do I sing the saddest songs
Who do ever thought that you and I will come to this Now here I am, all alone in my home just longing for your kiss

I love you, come to me and I will hold you tight
I take what's wrong and I make it right
Show you boy that I am still, I'm still the one
I miss that morning glow up on your face
That's mind, that kiss, your all warm embrace
Oh please believe it's true, no one just can make it through
I'm missing you

If I can make a wish and have anything in this whole wide world
I wanna share that dream with you

I love you come to me and I will hold you tight
I take what's wrong and I will make it right
Show you boy that I am still, I'm still the one
I miss that morning glow up on your face
That's mind, that kiss, your all warm embrace
Oh please believe it's true, 'cause I just can make it through
I'm missing you
