I don't believe that the first cut is the deepest
Cos tonight, I'd be lost if you were gone
But I'm not lonely, even in my hour of weakness
You say the words that help me carry on

Chorus:

You are not alone; don't give up the fight,
Whatever doesn't break you makes you stronger
It is hard but it's the same for everyone
Deep inside I know you'll be alright
Have faith a little longer
If everything is wrong, hold on
The best is yet to come

I don't believe that the first kiss is the sweetest
Cos after all this time baby you could do no wrong
I may have lost it all and be broken and defeated
But you say the words that help me to be strong
And I can hold on...

Chorus:

You are not alone; don't give up the fight,
Whatever doesn't break you makes you stronger
It is hard but it's the same for everyone
Deep inside I know you'll be alright

Have faith a little longer
When everything is wrong, hold on
The best is yet to come

And as I lie beside you in the darkness
I swear that I won't forget what you gave to me
And if your stormy nights surround you
I will always shine the light that guides you
I will reach out my hand and nothing will stand in my way
So remind you of the words you used to say...

You are not alone, don't give up the fight,
Whatever doesn't break you makes you stronger...

You are not alone; don't give up the fight,

Whatever doesn't break you makes you stronger
It is hard but it's the same for everyone
Deep inside I know you'll be alright
Gotta have faith a little longer
When everything is wrong, and your hope is over gone(?)
I will be there and be strong
Cos baby you're the one
And I promise you... the best is yet to come
