I've still got your black box of love
It drowns with me in this big
Black sea of tears,
You use to come for me in the night
When you turn out the light
Thought I was your guiding light
Without you inside I realise there's Another ghost of shattered dreams
Still drowning down and down
You drown with my message in a bottle
The tide takes me at full throttle
Can you feel
I'm cold to the touch
And my body feels like snow
Can you cry my tears?
Freeze them in the frost
You use to come for me
Can you remember me?
I still carry a torch for you
Epica wish it could guide me to you
I've still got your black box of love
It drowns with me in this big black sea
My tears freeze in the frost
I'm cold to the touch...
