Poetry in motion by LeelandRunning, pushing through crowds of people
Trying to find my way
My way back to you
You're better than all the others
Wrapped in beautiful colors
I've got to make you mine

You're like poetry in motion
You have my love and my devotion
You're like poetry in motion
You have my love and my devotion

From the start,
You changed my life with who you are
The flame of love came from a spark
You lit inside my heart
Nothing could ever pull apart
Our hands held so tight this far
You're walking my through the dark

You're like poetry in motion
You have my love and my devotion
You're like poetry in motion
You have my love and my devotion

Now that I found the love of my life
I'll hold your hand and walk into the light
Now that I found the love of my life
I'll hold your hand and walk into the light
And walk into the light

You're like poetry in motion
You have my love and my devotion
You're like poetry in motion
You're like poetry in motion
