the fallen children
against evil they stand gathered together
hand in hand
too young to avoid their dreams of reality
too late to save their peace of mind their mission was their fate tomorrow it can be too late

I see what you do
we'll meet in the catacombs
I can read your mind
you'll pay in the catacombs kill my practical jokes
but meet me in the catacombs down in the barrens it's your turn to tell flashbacks, flashbacks on neibolt street twentynine too late to turn back rooms are moving reducing and growing hold together whatever you do this is one of its dwells this is a dream taken from hell behind the door to the bathroom they are shure that it stands there waiting to kill

come your friends are dying down here you shall face me and face your fear and I know you shall die for my peace of mind and my life cry - for the pain I'll give you so please try to come near cause I am your fear

there is the spider give her a punch with your mindcraft
for the future
don't go too far beware of the web we must kill her once for all
