don't fear I'm a fiddler of mean let me play for awhile I invite you to dance - forever hey little child I believe that you know who I am to late to warn - the others are lost in the music of hell they dance, they dance into trance my violin plays the tunes of oblivion dance
my cloven-hoof stroke pulsate in your blood you are doomed to the dark dance, dance, let flesh become soil let bones become dust in the winds of the earth dance in the oldest of pines I laugh as I play your lunacy grows while you dance into hell I steel your souls they are mine under the sky before the trinity eye

dance
