"Symphony Of The Damned"

in nomans land between
heaven and hell
madness is chanting my name
thousand souls
erratic in life
chained in noplac
bereaved their heaven

out of tune noises
pulsating in my mind
a fatal opera
inferno of sounds
my conscience fading
fading

nowhere in time
yesterday is tomorrows today
shadeless faces
souls with no name
standing hypnotized
going insane
hearing helplessly - listen to the symphony of the damned

symphony of the damned
symphony of the damned
symphony of the damned

I search for light that I can't find
I search for shadows in this
life behind
from south of heaven they are
calling me
through this hysterical
psychic custody
I feel hands of compact nothing
tighten its grip on me

symphony of the damned

symphony of the damned
symphony of the damned

corridors blindly
I can see them
flashing by in the shadows
of my conscience
there's a voice
calling for my soul
in my mind
the senses overflowing
to a peak past
of what is human
as a god I spread my wing I fly

I'm alive
I got the fire
got the rage
like a giant bird of pray
I am the night
I'm the dark
I'm the raven
I'm the one
that you would call
descended from the sky

like tears lost in the rain
that music fades...

I sweep over paradise
where this god rules in disguise further on to a higher plane where I'm promised to be born again

that music fades...

...that symphony of the damned
