I try to walk a straight line but I fell off again
I try to fight temptation but I always seem to give in I'm always losing but I always find the strength to go on Their always laughing but it doesn't bother me
anymore
Sitting on the sidewalk like so many nights before I promise never again but the promise went out the door
Tried and I tried but I lost my grip again (?) to they make a strong man walking in the pouring rain
Well I'm tired away but tomorrow is stuck in yesterday
She said she is tired of broken promises there's nothing more I can say
She said I wanted to apologize cuz it doesn't matter
anymore
I ended up on the corner of broad like the night before
I try to walk a straight line but I fell off again
I try to fight temptation but I always seem to give In I'm always losing but I always find the strength to go on Their always laughing but it doesn't bother me
anymore
Well I'm tired away but tomorrow is stuck in yesterday
She said she is tired of broken promises there's nothing more I can say
anymore
I ended up on the corner of broad like the night before
