[Words & music: Fahlberg, Liljekvist, MÃ¥rdstam]

Beautiful, looking more and more
Like a dazzling Greek god statue all drenched in gore
Velvet lips and smooth, cold skin
A vogue cover painted in blood

I don't need no reason, for love and hate
You can't escape my treason, it's too late
Dazzling face, bloodred lace

Entering my private hall
Let me show you the reasons for life and death
Long legs, standing tall
You can't run, you are out of sight

I don't need no reason, for love and hate
You can't escape my treason, it's too late
Dazzling face, bloodred lace

I don't need no reason, for love and hate
You can't escape my treason, it's too late
Staring eyes, trembling thighs
