For the love...
For the smoke and the lights
And for the moments
And every promise
Tuesday's not so far away time seals a thought each time I pray with
You... for you
Closer as the sun begins to fall

On the road we tear out the hearts inside
We'll sit back and watch the universe collide
We will stand much stronger when we survive
And I can't hardly breathe without you by my side

For the right
All the girls of the night
And we've harnessed
Every guilty conscious
Memories aren't meant to fade, they fill up every glass
I raise to

You... with you
Moving closer faster drive us all

On the road we tear out the hearts inside
We'll sit back and watch the universe collide
We will stand much stronger when we survive
And I can't hardly breathe without you by my side

I feel one step away... far enough
From the lines that we walk straight... with open eyes
We find hope in the one place... far away
Far from all the chains that they make here we stay...
With you... with you...
Closer as the sun begins to fall
