Here I am, a stolen note, simple paragraph from the book you wrote Take your time, I leave today, if I forget my line, won't matter anyway
Cause in my mind this is just a dream well deserved break from your reality
I need to know, I need to hear, 1000 kind words to help me hold you near I cannot endure this pain...so help me I'll just go insane baby
Tonight, tonight you'll be all over my shoulder
Is black and blue from all your punches
You're such a sucker Sucker for being touched and I think of you so much when I'm alone...
So drag it out, I'll go on losing sleep, and keeping all my faith, in secrets that you keep

And in between a subtle harmony will keep me waiting here... so much for sympathy Cause in my mind this is all a dream a scarlet thread between fate and irony I need you now, I need you here, but you're so far away high in the atmosphere
I don't do this on purpose, but I've been running around in circles baby
Tonight, tonight you'll be all over my shoulder
Is black and blue from all your punches you're such a Sucker for being touched and I think of you so much
when I'm alone
