"One Without"

We had a closure, we're starting over
But not together, as one
We both said our goodbyes,
Let me realize that this will never be again.

It takes time to get over this
We'll forget it takes time

All the things I've done
Still, you think I'm tripping
All the things I've done,
Do you think I've changed?

I can't put in words how I feel
Please explain why you had to leave me here
Societies on recall, our emotions caught up
Why can't we be again?
