Can you say you understand this time
But it's the last thing that you wanted,
At the race, your life?
Can you say you never felt alive,
But it's the first time that you ever saw me down?

Fire away!
This is just the way I'd say goodbye.
Are you understanding?
This isn't just a lie,
The best of my best intentions.
Let's start over again.

Can you say you'd go through this again
Only to find out it wasn't half as fucked up in the end?
Can you say you'd never, ever give in
Can you see it tore me down?

A chance to erase everything from your mind
A chance to start over when you fell behind
You never know, so close your eyes and let it go
When we were there...

What can I say to make you stay?
Voice, don't fail me now
What can I say to make you stay?
Voice, don't fail me now
