He said, she said, we said, it's complicated
Sat down, what's that sound, I passed out Every now and then, give away everything I wanted, Every now and then; give away all that it meant to me

Runaway, runaway
How long will it take to get it right (run away, run away)
How long will it take to get it right?

Better ending, it's never this way, when you call me
out, when you call me out
Never ending, it's better this way, when you call me
out, when you call me out

Past line, the last time, and that's why,
Your talking all that, that sound, it's that loud, you passed out

Every now and then, I never said anything I wanted; Every now and then I never said how much it meant to me

Run away, run away
How long will it take to get it right (run away, run away)

How long will it take to get it right?

Better ending, it's never this way, when you call me
out, when you call me out
Never ending, it's better this way, when you call me
out, when you call me out

Why do things change, it's never this way, why do things change (when you call me out) Never ending, it's better this way (why do things change),
When you call me out, when you call me out

Why do things change, why do things change (why do things change)
Better ending, it's never this way, when you call me
out,

When you call me out (why do things change)
Never ending, it's better this way, when you call me
out,
When you call me out (why do things change)
