so much for the i dos nothing ever takes you off my mind pictures put in cardboard boxes now it seems like you've just stopped the time changed my clock to make it tick backwards but the time is still slipping away

i smile on the outside, lonely on the inside you'll never know how miserable i've been some days i just stay in bed waiting for a dream where you arrive but instead i wake up to another day empty house of memories things you say stuck inside i wish i'd die smile on the outside, lonely on the inside you'll never know how miserable i've been

i'm smiling on the outside, lonely on the inside you'll never know how miserable i've been change my number threw the sheets away all my friends just think that i'm a disgrace everyday i find something else to miss about you and i wonder do you feel the same

i smile on the outside, lonely on the inside
you'll never know how miserable i've been
smile on the outside, lonely on the inside

woah oh oh woah oh oh woah oh oh oh oh oh oh miserable i've been
