How long would it take to count all the stars?
How long would it take to climb up to Mars?
How long has this old world stood so true?
Well, that's how long it would take me to stop loving you.

How long has the sea had water so deep?
How long has the mountain stood so steep?
How long has it been since the world was new?
Well, that's how long it would take me to stop loving
you.

How long is forever and a day?
How old it time dear can you say?
How long has God's love been so true?
Well, that's how long it would take me to stop loving
you...
