I never walk away from the pain
I push right through all the lies
How did we come so far?
How did we come so far?

Inside, I never had your back
Inside, I never wanted to be loved by you

This is a fucking war

And when the time is right
You'll finally see your lies
And where will your family be?
You always fool yourself into what is right
There's no future in what you see

There's no future in what you want to be
You're not the same to me
You've changed for worse

You're changing this for the worst in time maybe
You'll realize what you've done this time around
I know your fine but I'm dying inside, help me
I'm fucking dying inside of me
Oh my God, who was I to judge?
It's your life but don't forget about me
I'm one of you, your blood runs through me
Stop living a lie, you're fucking killing me

End your suffering
