

Legendary Pink Dots

"The Unfortunate Demise Of The Favulous Puccino Brothers"

Visit "The Unfortunate Demise Of The Favulous Puccino Brothers" on MotoLyrics.com

The host if heaven welcomed seven ghosts. He gave them coffee, showed them
'round but the catastrophe had left them speechless.
They'd tried to teach us kids how human beings could be pyramids when Gideon went ssliding on a banana skin. The stage caved in. They hit the cellar. Hit the deck. Stone dead and seeing red when gates were golden [...?....] Peter told them how they'd like it there... make tightropes, tiptoe gently through the clouds. And if they fell, just ring a bell. A net would catch them, stop them dropping headfirst into hell!

Visit Legendary Pink Dots page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.