When I close my eyes
I can see your face in
The sun shining through
On that special place and

You, you were always gonna be my king
(I was always gonna be your king)
I was always gonna be your queen
(You know that we can always be anything)
Remember love

Whatever may come, whenever you're lost
Remember, there'll always be a place for us
Castles we built may crumble to dust
Don't worry, there'll always be a place for us, a place for us

When I close my eyes
I can hear you laughing
The night, it will fall
And the day will pass by

You never ever know what you may find (Never ever know what you may find)
All you got to do is open your mind
(Just got to leave the real world behind)
Remember love

Whatever may come, whenever you're lost
Remember, there'll always be a place for us
Castles we built may crumble to dust
Don't worry, there'll always be a place for us

You, you were always gonna be my king
(I was always gonna be your king)
I was always gonna be your queen
(You know that we can always be anything)
Remember love

Whatever may come, whenever you're lost
Remember, there'll always be a place for us
Castles we built may crumble to dust

Don't worry, there'll always be a place for us

Whatever may come, whenever you're lost

There'll always be a place for us

Castles we built may crumble to dust

There'll always be a place for us

A place for us

A place for us
