Talk over the radio, that way everyone can hear.
Louder than the stereo, don't worry your head my dear.
I think it's hilarious, the way you talk about yourself
But don't tell that story again.

You're good one thing, I can't but calling you out
You're so lovely, I can't behave myself

Look into the mirror, I know you're good at that Don't be so insecure, as long as you shut your mouth Take yourself so serious, like you're talking for your health
But don't tell that story again.

You're good for one thing, I can't help but calling you
out,
You're so lovely, I can't behave myself

Be slow. Anybody home?

And you're so lovely, I can not help myself
You're good for one thing, I can't help but calling you
And you're so lovely, I can't behave myself
