Market town, what a doozey walking 'round
With all theese putrid people every where
"You've gotta buy this"
Screams a whisky stinking vermin vedor
Holding up a rotten pear

But I hold on
To my dollar looking all around me
In this place I hide my face
But dirty people hound me

Market Street, I could use a bite to eat
But I don't want to buy a whole raw fish no
No not a blanket yes it's lovely
But I'm hungry and that really not my favourite dish

So I hold on
To my mula mumza zeta money
Theres not trash that worth my cash
It all just smells too funny

In Marketland
You can buy whats in demand
15 years ago ,wow
In Marketland
All the world is in your hand
I'd go wash it off now

Market Lane, either I'm going insane
Or theres an urchin hawking book report.
Oh thats a new one
Some old guy with just one eye
Selling his obviously soiled shorts.

Still I hold on
To my dollar looking all around me
In this place I hide my face
But dirty people hound me

Market Hell
Theres no food to old to sell
There is no merchandise too urine-stained
"You've gotta buy this"
Scream the whiskey stinking vermin vendors
Well at least I'm entertained

Still I hold on
To my dollar looking all around me
In this place I hide my face
But dirty people hound me
