So easy to get lost in part in the game that's played.
But you'll wake someday to find you're caught up in a trap that's laid.
You believe in life when someone tells when you know that it can't be true
what you ever blindly follow whatever is in front of you.

CHORUS:

Don't believe in everything you hear or see.
Don't be the one to find out
things aren't always what they seem to be.

[MUSICAL BRIDGE]

Why wait around for someone else to show you what you believe.
Never mind which way the wind blows
you can find the nerve to breathe.

And have you ever had a dream so bad
and thought of it makes you weak.
What about the dream that needs you crying close, you're not asleep.

CHORUS:

Don't believe in everything you hear or see.
Don't be the one to find out
things aren't always what they seem to be.

[MUSICAL BRIDGE]

Don't believe in everything you hear or see.
Don't be the one to find out
things aren't always what they seem to be.
