It's no trick to decide on your own
You feel it when you feel fine later on
A shower you can't depend on at all
It's too hot then it's too cold then it's warm

Something's missing
Something's missing
Something's missing
Something's missing from my life
Something's missing from my life

The things I don't multiply and divide when
I just can't decide
Been here before it's gonna come back again
Been here before it's gonna come back my friend

Something's missing
Something's missing
Something's missing
Something's missing from my life

I ain't quiet deep inside
I'm not even on my side
Something's missing from my life

There's nowhere I really wanted to stay and
Nothing really makes it okay
Nothing really makes it okay
There's nowhere I really wanted to stay

Something's missing
Something's missing
Something's missing
