>Strange how you stopped loving me
How you stopped needing me
When he came along
Ohh, how strange

Strange you changed like night and day
Just up and walked away
When he came along
Ohh, how strange

Well I guess that I was just a puppet
You held on a string
To think I thought you really loved me
Look what thoughts can bring, whoa

Strange you're still in all my dreams
Oh what a funny thing
I still care for you
How strange

Well I guess that I was just a puppet
You held on a string
To think I thought you really loved me
Look what thoughts can bring, whoa

Strange, you're still in all my dreams
Oh what a funny thing
I still care for you
Oh how strange
