"An Attept To Think About You"

Modestly silencing the treasure beneath the elastic palisade
Your body recites
A suspicious
A suspicious
Confidence, confidence, confidence
That pushes me away, that pushes me away
We're making love like it's a sport
And you're winning

Well, the thing is that for me
It's the foreplay that makes me tick
Because standing at the top of a mountain
Leaves me nothing to look forward to
And I'll just have to retrace my steps,
And at the bottom of the hill you've already left
Now I'm reaching for anyone
Because I miss being in love
