It's always the same
A window I can't see through
Don't think I'll ever do
It's covered in rain
Like me as I'm waiting for you
I'm not sure I wanted to

Like horses on a carousel never win
But always keep racing
Standing here, got time to kill
Watching them a little
Oh, they don't know

All that I want is always to push forward
But since you been gone
I just wanna push rewind
If yesterday could only be tomorrow
But whatever I do I always run behind

It's always the same
I'm starin' at the ceiling
Don't know where to begin
All that I see
Just symbols with no meaning
They could mean anything

Like echoes in a hallway
My thoughts are always reflecting
Bouncing off the walls
Of our cold and empty house
And I still don't know

All that I want is always to push forward
But since you been gone
I just wanna push rewind
If yesterday could only be tomorrow
But whatever I do I always run behind

If you could see
How my world is tumbling down
Oh

How it hurts
When you're not around

All that I want is always to push forward

All that I want is always to push forward
But since you been gone
I just wanna push rewind
If yesterday could only be tomorrow
But whatever I do I always run behind

Whatever I do I always run behind
