Ain't it crazy how life is unpredictable
I was always upright, 'til you turned me upside down
You came back to my place and I
I found myself in your arms tonight
Overcome by everything of you
And I hope you're not too good to be true, my baby

I'm standing in the moonlight, trying to catch my breath again
What you gone and done to me baby
All shaken up and tongue tied, heart is in a mess again
What you gone and done to me
Every time you love me that way,
I'm standing in the moonlight, trying to catch my breath again
What you gone and done to me baby

Ain't it crazy how life can be so beautiful
I never knew how deep your love was until I tried
I laid down on the grass and I wished you were by my side
But, I need a moment to myself
And I hope that you're still waiting there for me baby

I'm standing in the moonlight, trying to catch my breath again
What you gone and done to me baby
All shaken up and tongue tied, heart is in a mess again
What you gone and done to me
Every time you love me that way,
I'm standing in the moonlight, trying to catch my breath again
What you gone and done to me baby

Cause every time I come this far, before I always had my doubts
I saw the end before I saw the stars
And now I've come to realize that you are like the evening sky
An everlasting night, an everlasting night

I'm standing in the moonlight, trying to catch my breath again
What you gone and done to me baby

All shaken up and tongue tied, heart is in a mess again
What you gone and done to me yeah
Every time you love me that way,
I'm standing in the moonlight, trying to catch my breath again
What you gone and done to me baby

I'm standing in the moonlight, trying to catch my breath again - baby
