All hippies are dropouts, all hippies are fakes from hippie you became the yuppie you hate all of your ideals you have dropped, fuck off from peace you went to business There's nothing left of your person, aren't you ashamed of yourself?
Look what you became after all, things you swore you'd never do!
You were so cool, taking some drugs, talking politics but you changed a lot 'coz you never believed in it You were so full of ideals and now you've dropped them all you became everything you used to despise when you were young You betrayed yourself and your friends 'coz you never believed your own ideals you just went with the crowd in a ridiculous effort to be hip and trendy

Why do I think you're ridiculous now?
Because you are so full of shit nowadays, you're saying one thing but you do the other, preaching about love and peace

But you're the ones making war now, doing business, all for cash no ideals, no rebellion, just hollow lives at the stock exchange
