I'm afraid of you and you and you!
People can spit such venom on each other causing a lot of pain and sorrow they've already torn my heart apart and now I'm afraid to get hurt again Humiliating me and throwing insults ridiculizing me their ego is growing I'm denied the feeling of being wanted I'm dying inside but who cares about that?
The emotional pain won't go away they've hurt me too much and far too long that's how they made me who I am that's why I feel such hatred now there's no way to take away the pain only retaliation can soothe my soul I'm afraid of people laughing at me you are staring at me like I'm a freak can feel your eyes burning into my skin I just want some love and affection you make me feel fuckin' insecure you make me want to sit in a corner and die
