Fall divide,
Where we lie
Ride with the night

Never meant to be alone in the wild
Never mind and fall asleep for a while
Call you over in the evening time

Fall divide,
Where we lie
Ride with the night

All at once we come undone,
Our conscious minds retreat to silence
Finely tuned to fill the void
With dreams of waking life.

Never meant to be alone in the wild
Never mind and fall asleep for a while
Call you over in the evening time

Fall divide,
Where we lie
Ride with the night

All at once we come undone,
Our conscious minds retreat to silence
Finely tuned to fill the void
With dreams of waking life.
