She don't like him talkin' to blondes Girls in town ain't use to men like John Another waitress sets him up for free Ain't that good lookin' but he sure knows what to say Yeah he's got a voice like a tuxedo
and pink champagne
When he speaks his heart he sounds so lonely like a leaving train
Yeah he's got a voice like a tuxedo
and pink champagne
When he speaks his heart he sounds so lonely
You're one silver-tongued devil
Next door neighbors since we were nine This old mill town is in a sharp decline Talks about leavin' almost every day It's the thing of the season and there's no reason to stay
Yeah he's got a voice like a tuxedo
and pink champagne
When he speaks his heart he sounds so lonely like a
leaving train
Yeah he's got a voice like a tuxedo
and pink champagne
When he speaks his heart he sounds so lonely
You're one silver-tongued devil
Sometimes he'd talk about a fantasy
To go off and become a famous guy His girlfriend went and had the baby and how it would just break his heart Now to leave them behind
Yeah he's got a voice like a tuxedo
and pink champagne
When he speaks his heart he sounds so lonely like a
leaving train
Yeah he's got a voice like a tuxedo
and pink champagne
When he speaks his heart he sounds so lonely
You're one silver-tongued
You're one silver-tongued
You're one silver-tongued devil
