Somebody told me she's growin' up somewhere
She's alone, her soul is strainin'
I was a fool to think that I could change her
Somebody send my baby home to me
(Somebody send my baby home to me)
Somebody send her
(Somebody send her home)
Somebody send her home
And if you see her
Won't you tell her how much I need her

She's gone away so far away
Singing somewhere in Montego Bay
She lives by the sea
Somebody send my baby home to me
(Somebody send my baby home to me)
Somebody send her
(Somebody send her)
Somebody send her home
And if you see her
Won't you tell her how much I need her

And if I could dream her back
She'd be lyin' here with me
Makin' love in the Georgia sunshine

(Somebody send my baby home to me)
Somebody send her
(Somebody send her home)
Somebody send her home
And if you see her
Please tell her how much I need her
