

Leon Bolier "Longing For"

I don't want to share my thoughts,
But I can't help to care, can't help to fear so.
I guess I'm bound to reach for words,
To explicate, elaborate by...

We should have been so aware to be one,
Feel so undone, to feel your presence fade away.
I miss your fingers: knock my door.

I'm longing for, the air we share wherever I need to share,
My thoughts, can't help to care, can't help to fear,
It has all just been a dream... feel so undone... feel so undone.
I need to share my thoughts, can't help to care, can't help to Fear it has all just been a dream...
