In a strange cold setting
I called a strangely cold ex
Wanted to meet her
For a coffee and cigarettes
Maybe get some dinner and we'll try to laugh about Unforgiven disasters that we had never worked out

There's a temptation to bury it deep inside
Why won't you see me
Is there something you can't hide

Please see me
Tell me things
I don't know
Set me down
You missing me only shows that nothing's gone
It's not a one way thing
You must know you are the one
You must know you are
You must know you are
You must know you are the one
You must know you are
You must know you are
You must know you are the one

Just leaving a message anywhere I can Wanted to know how you are
I know that you got a man
And all I was trying to do was look up the old flame
We could fight ever after about who got hurt and who's to blame

There's a temptation to bury it deep inside
Why won't you see me
Is there something you can't hide

Please see me
Tell me things
I don't know
Set me down
You missing me only shows that nothing's gone

It's not a one way thing
You must know you are the one
You must know you are
You must know you are
You must know you are the one
You must know you are
You must know you are
You must know you are the one

Maybe it's the right thing to do
Maintain space between me and you
If I said the right thing would we Start all over, start all over again
Keep it all down low
Cause we couldn't keep it mellow
Cause we, we miss each other now that all is said and done
Can't freeze it over now
You must know you are the one

Please see me
Tell me things
I don't know
Set me down
You missing me only shows that nothing's gone
You must know you are the one
You must know you are
You must know you are
You must know you are
You must know you are
