One day my head filled up with though
One day I said I would never get caught
One day I explored all the possible ways
One day I swore, I would understand it

Iopen up
I dream awake
I open up,
And I dream

One night my good intentions turned me away
One night I left my hell and found out I'd stayed
One night I became all the people I hate
One night I swore, I would never relate

I open up
I dream awake
I open up,
And I dream

And I find
There is light
There is hope
There is a glow
And I find
There is light
There is hope
There is a glow
