You let me down, cant fix you now
Thought i could count on you to be around
You bring me down, down, down way down

What is the problem
Are you taking me seriously
Is it a joke to you
Or maybe im a fool

Why am i trying
So hard to be the girl that you need
How is this fair to me
When you break through

This is to much
Dont call it love
You are the reason its so hard to trust
Boy this aint what i wanted
And now its got to stop

You let me down, cant fix you now
Thought i could count on you to be around
You bring me down, down, down way down

No more tears
Why did i let you have so much control
I gave my arm to you
And you pushed me away

Why are you here oh
Dont you see im letting you go
The damage is done baby
I have nothing to say

Its gone to far
Dont know who you are
I think its better that we are apart

Babe i know where i am
And i know where your near

You let me down, cant fix you now

Thought i could count on you to be around
You bring me down, down, down way down

You let me down, thought i had had found
Some one to catch me when i hit the ground
You bring me down, down, down way down (ooooh)

Would you like it if
I did the same thing to
You and i lasted
Walking years on ma shoes

Boy theres no excuse
Cause of what you did theres no me and you

Would you like it if
I did the same thing
You wouldnt of liked
Walking in time

Boy theres no excuse
Thats who you are and im so over you

You let me down, cant fix you now
You bring me down, down, down way down

You let me down, thought i had had found
Some one to catch me when i hit the ground
You bring me down, down, down way down

Down
Down
Stop bringing me, stop bringing me
Down down
Oooh
