Her arms are cold but still she hold me to that vow
Which once was love is now a prison wall
I know I'll sneak away to meet you again some how So please remember darling when you call

If a woman answers hang up the phone
Don't take a change please don't ask for me
If a woman answers hang up the phone
I love you but darlin I'm not free.

These chains that bind me this heart of mine will never break
But they can't keep my heart from loving you
I know that I should say good bye for both our sakes
So darlin please remember when you call,

If a woman answers hang up the phone
Don't take a change please don't ask for me
If a woman answers hang up the phone
I love you but darlin I'm not free.
