so off the edge
to those who witnessed your self-confidence lacking to the point of calm simple mind-ness what couldn't you find her, but i have said, cuz i love choking on my one last breath stifing in my chest my words hardly phrasing my heart dropped with a thought cuz opened a moment You still felt times you convince yourself otherwise

You're not as convincing as you wish you could be Cuz word travels quickly and word on the street says Jaded frame of mind
But you still act like this was the first time Educated with what comes next Songs of heartache, words of regret Forever thinking my lesson has been learned Part of the process, the road to recovery Is as difficult as you deserve

You're not as convincing as you wish you could be Cuz word travels quickly and word on the street says...

cuz she thinks she's got it but you've gone forgot it memories have faded fast as photographs

(You're not as convincing as you wish you could be not as convincing as you wish you could be) (x2)
