tonight seems colder than the last and the drive home seems far too long i left so many months ago but im still not home im still not home

staring at the yellow line singing songs in my head im wishing you were here you left before i did but you're still not here (still not here)

tell me that you won't leave this time its different im struggling to breathe tell me that he's just a friend i guess im too scared to listen

say goodbye one last time its not that easy losing love to one girl of your life

two years, been more than that its not that easy loving your best friend loving me again

In my head im wishing you were here I left after you did But my heart's already here, already here

This time its different im struggling to breathe

two years, been more than that

lets go!

its not that easy losing your best friend
