I fought with love and I called her bluff but soon I was facing my biggest fear cause I walked away when I should have stayed looked back, but she disappeared

Screaming out what did I do When old memories make it harder to breath cause you know, just what you've lost and you can't fall asleep cause she's there in your dreams
but you can't get away from your thoughts when she's on repeat in your head wishing you could take back things you said you've loved and lost

She comes on by with a guy by her side so you say that you're happy for her but those eyes that you've missed are directed at his you try not to show that you're hurt but sometimes love just gets away

dreams
you've loved and lost

And I'll turn around and leave gracefully but I'll never stop wishing you'd come back to me
