We all know of the prowess of Chet Atkins on the guitar. This one comes from an album "Chet Atkins and his Guitar" from the early 1960's. The song title is Peek-Aboo Moon. It is mostly guitar instrumental, but there is some female vocal. The lyrics of that are.

Peek-aboo moon, won't you come out tonight?

Won't you shine on the one that I love?

Peek-aboo moon, with your magic delight,

I'll be kissing the one that I love.

You play games playing hide and seek,

But tonight's the day I've been waiting

All week for

Peek-aboo moon, hiding up in the blue,

Shine on my baby tonight

Shine on my baby tonight

Peek-aboo Moon.
