"In The Black Hole"

Something in your eyes that looks like anger
Makes me realize I've been too slow
Something in your eyes, does it men danger?
Makes me scared but I dont't let it show
I can feel it, I can feel it now
I can see it, I tan see it now

Don't you know the kind of situation
When your feet they can't move anymore
Deep Inside of me comes a mutation
I'm not half the man I was before
I can feel it, I can feel it now
I can see it, I can see it now

I must admit that I lost control
I am sending my very last call
I am failing into the black hole

I can see your image in the mirror
Reflected back from the other side
Nothing else I can do but surrender
'Cause I know there's nowhere I can hide
I can feel It, I can feel it now
I can see it, I can see it now

I must admit that I lost control
I am sending my very last call
I am failing into the black hole
