There're so many people you can't trust.
YOu say this world is only lies and you prefer to close Your eyes, you prefer to close your ears and your heart.
When the children are in the war; when the laws are just
Made for poor people, when this planet is destroyed
Everyday, and sex is now becoming a crime.
It's true, can we keep smiling, when we open
Our eyes on this world, when people are casting off

Their chains, only to get the power Come on have fun and dance with us, as if tonight was the last time; and think that if There's only one hope, why don't we try all together.
We have always in our mind, the dream of a Beautiful night when we could dance on the Ruins of this borng old world.
