

Lesley Gore

"The Road I Walk"

Visit "The Road I Walk" on MotoLyrics.com

The road I walk has no return
Its task to teach is mine to learn
With no concern of where I've been
Just can I play and will I win

The road I walk's been walked before
It's made some rich and it's made some poor
But never sure of where life went
Or who they were or what it meant

What price must we pay for love
What price must we pay for glory
Tell me God
If there's one above
Must I live the same sad story

The road I walk is paved with stone
It's curved and cold to walk alone
The search unknown for peace of mind
Too often takes a life to find

The road I walk has eyes and ears
It sees the lies and it hears the fears
Untouched by years of wandering souls
Too young to know they're growing old

What price must we pay for love
What price must we pay for glory
Tell me God
If there's one above
Must I live the same sad story

Visit Lesley Gore page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.