Running from the future,
Running from the past,
Running from the mirror,
How long can you last?
Don't look back; the thunder's rolling.
Don't look back. You know what's there.
Don't look back; the sight will break you.
Look ahead and forget to care.

Running from the darkness,
Running from the day,
Running from the voices,
See no other way.
Cross my name out of your pages.
Turn your face away, forget the sight.
Put back the stone you found me under.
Don't drag me back into the light.

Running from the living,

Running from the dead,
Running from the memories,
Just one jump ahead.
But you're still alive, there's a face in the mirror.
Still alive; the dead don't bleed.
Still alive. Life is a changer,
And you're no stranger; come take what you need.

There will be an answer.
The sun will rise.
Love is a survivor.
Open your eyes.

Running from the future,
Running from the past,
Running from the mirror,
How long can you last?
How long can you last?
How long can you last
